Let's keep the record straight

One of our weekly and one of our daily contemporaries came out with big headlines a week ago stating that what a Board of Trade speaker said SHOULD be done, was what the Board of Trade WOULD do in 1951.

White Rock Board of Trade had set "its main objective" stated the reports, a breakwater for White Rock and incorporation of the town as a separate entity. If the Board has set these objectives, no one on the Board knows it.

Publicity for a town can be bad and it can be good, but pure fancy makes those in responsible positions seem a bit foolish, particularly when members of their own organization know nothing about it.

The reports, which rated big headlines in the two papers, were published six weeks ago in the Semiahmoo Sun, the only paper to have a reporter at the meeting. At that meeting in November, Victor McPherson, recently-elected councillor, outlined projects which the Board should consider in keep White Rock progressive. The ten-point plan was published in full by the Semiahmoo Sun two days later.

Six weeks later the public was informed that these were "objective" of the Board for 1951. The truth of the matter is that these suggestions have not yet been considered by the Board. Moreover, the newly-elected body still has no power to act, as it will not be installed until January 16.

White Rock could use a breakwater, and incorporation would be beneficial to the town, but leadership on these two important issues is still forthcoming.

Information and not misinformation is the only way to maintain a free and responsible press and a free and responsible democracy. The Semiahmoo Sun is, and will remain, a medium of information in a rumor-filled world.

Clay's say

A friendly get-together with the well-known author and columnist.

CHARLES CLAY

You are fighting Polio!

I say that because I am confident you are one of the thousands of my fellow-Canadians who are supporting the Canadian Foundation for Polio-myelitis, through its annual Canadian March of Dimes.

And the Canadian Foundation for Polio-myelitis is fighting Polio. Polio-myelitis, therefore, poses many questions. It has to be fought on many fronts.

That is what you are doing through your Canadian Foundation for Polio-myelitis. As president of your Foundation, I'd like to make a report to you.

At the conclusion of your Foundation's first annual national drive for funds, through the Canadian March of Dimes, which was held during January of 1950, a meeting of Canadian doctors was called. NATIONAL COMMITTEE

That meeting created a National Medical Advisory Committee of your Foundation. All the doctors present agreed that Dr. W. T. Mustard of Toronto would make an ideal president, and he was elected.

Other members of that committee include Dr. W. J. Thompson and Dr. D. A. Steele, from Vancouver, B.C.

You can see that your Foundation's National Medical Advisory Committee has a coast-to-coast membership of doctors who rank high in their profession. Your National Board of Directors of the Canadian Foundation for Polio-myelitis is proud to be associated with such a fine body of men. Their ranks are swelled by Provincial Medical Advisory Committees of like standing and unselfish ideal of service.

It is the job of this committee to help your Foundation fight Polio with your money—your dollars and dimes so generously donated during the 1950 Canadian March of Dimes.

There are many demands! Indeed, the demands have already been far greater than the money available, and it has been necessary to spread out the funds somewhat thinly to fight on many Polio fronts as possible.

In later articles in this series, I will tell you about some of the many Polio victims you have been able to help. My reports along those lines will do your heart good!

But just now let me tell you something about your work through your Canadian Foundation for Polio-myelitis and its National Medical Advisory Committee, in the fields of research and physiotherapy.

RESEARCH IMPORTANT They are important, especially research into the causes of Polio, if we—that is all the Canadians who are behind the Foundation—are to do our job.

Your Foundation has set aside $25,000 for research from the funds raised during the 1950 Canadian March of Dimes. Next year your directors hope that this sum will be considerably enlarged.

That will depend upon your support!

When a suitable project in Polio research is presented to your Foundation, it will be carried by the National Research Council to prevent duplication of effort being made in similar research elsewhere.

I think you will agree that this is a good idea. Your directors want to make your donations do as much as is humanly possible, and therefore any duplication is to be avoided.

Then there is the Foundation's training program. Here we work with the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapists and the Canadian Physiotherapy Association.

TEACHER SHORTAGE

There is a serious shortage of teachers qualified to instruct physical and occupational therapists. Your Foundation is helping to overcome this by offering a teacher fellowship to a well-recommended candidate. When her training is complete, she will be able to teach many more girls interested in this work.

First fruits of your Foundation's training program were harvested when Miss Joan Fraser, Reg. N., went to Boston on a Fellowship from your Foundation for a six-week course in the nursing care of the Polio patients. She studied the latest methods and the most advanced treatment, and then returned to the Hospital for Sick Children at Thielkston, N.W., she's using her specific knowledge and technique to treat cases there.

But these steps are merely scratching the surface of our treatment problem. Your Foundation hopes to be able to do a real job in this field after the 1951 Canadian March of Dimes.

If you and your friends donate like you did last year! Be generous, won't you? Help Fight Polio on the research and treatment front.

Send your donations to the Canadian March of Dimes 207 Rogers Building, Vancouver. Your dollars and dimes have a job to do—help beat the stuffing out of Canada's Polio problem.

Seen and Heard ... from the boardwalk

By HARVE

A Healthy New Year to ALL! If you have your health, it should go a long way towards making you HAPPY.

My New Year's Resolution is to try and have the Boardwalk ready each week. Hope the Editor resolves Not to File it when he has TOO much advertising.

It seems the visiting dancers have been and gone, leaving sore heads and hard feelings among local folk. (Parade, but this was supposed to be the time of Peace on Earth, No?)

One of the nicest things that happened in White Rock this holiday season was. The carnival bells from the church, they were really a treat and very well played. It is a pity that it is not a regular performance. We could use it.

The tragedy of a Christmas tree, for a few short days, it is admired in all its glory, then it is discarded, landing untimely and forlorn on the ash heap.

With the world in the state of unrest and folk's feelings the same way. It is going to take a showing of optimism to make this year bearable. If we all try our hardest, it can be done. So how about it.

There were a large number of beautifully decorated homes this year and it made one feel that each little colored light was offering the HOPE so sorely needed in these trying times. The heavy wind blowing is bracing and is putting some color in some of the cheeks which became wan over the weekend. It's an ill wind that blows no good.

The sidewalk? At the foot of the hill on Washington Avenue has become a definite death trap. It was bad before, but now there is a plank that has become very unfortunate, when you get near enough, it swings up to "kick" you. One party remarked that he now knew where the "Black Bottom" originated.

A weak column this week. Hate to start the New Year complaining. There are 31 weeks left in this year, so they say.

Local students eligible for industrialist sponsored tours

One hundred British and Canadian girls will take another step toward equality of opportunity for young women when they exchange visits this summer as guests of W. Garfield Weston, Canadian-born international industrialist. Up to now, the Weston goodwill youth tours have been for boys only. British Columbia students will be included.

"Now, several groups of boys are exchanging visits under other auspices," Mr. Weston said in making the announcement. "I think it is time someone did something for girls—our future homemakers. And the understanding these tours promote is every bit as important in young women as it is in young men."

Mr. Weston announced that final plans have been made for the 50 Canadian girls to sail from Montreal for Liverpool July 13. They will return in late August. Fifty British girls will tour central Canada during August.

B.C. GIRLS TOO

In Canada, girls will be chosen from all 10 provinces and the Yukon and North-West Territories. All selections will be made through schools by the Canadian Education Association. Average age will be 16.

In Britain, selection will be done through the National Association of Girls' Clubs, Girl Guides and other youth organizations.

The goodwill program began two years ago with a tour of Canada for 50 British boys. Last summer 50 Canadian boys visited Britain while 50 British boys toured Canada.

"Objectives of the tours," Mr. Weston said, "are to develop closer understanding and friendship between Canada and Britain. The tours of the last two years proved successful in building goodwill and friendships—as I had hoped they would."

TRADITION

"Although the two countries are vastly different in many ways," Mr. Weston pointed out, "they both have a great tradition and heritage. That's what we want the young people to learn. I hope they will see in Britain the cradle of modern democratic institutions, and in Canada, a young country of tremendous opportunity."

"An important by-product of this project," said Mr. Weston, "is the increased knowledge these young people gain of their own country."

tries. Last summer, the boys from Quebec came back speaking fluent English. And they helped the English-speaking boys learn to speak French quite well."

Both groups will see historical sites, industrial plants and cultural life. There will be time for relaxing at summer resorts.

YOUR INVESTMENT ... IN HEALTH, WELFARE AND SECURITY

Within the Department of Health and Welfare are three closely-integrated branches which exist for the sole purpose of administering your investment in health, welfare and hospital insurance. This year, your Provincial Government will invest for these three public services, just over $22,300,000 or about $20 per person. In one way or another, the activities of these three branches touch the daily life of everyone living in British Columbia. That's the way it should be.

Your money is administered to care for your requirements in the closely-related fields of health, welfare and hospital insurance.

HEALTH BRANCH

A person's health is his most priceless possession and it was with this thought in mind that the Health Branch was formed. Its many services are designed to safeguard the health of every citizen within the province. The present services are forever expanding, and are considered to be amongst the best on the continent.

Over 80% of the population of this province takes advantage of the public nursing service, which brings to all people the benefits of capable and trained personnel.

The complete health unit service covering the province is available to over 74% of the people. It includes pre-natal, infant and child health services, communicable disease control, nutrition and preventive mental health services, sanitation inspection and education, and many other allied programs.

Tuberculosis is carefully battled on the two important fronts, diagnosis and treatment. A free, province-wide diagnosis program is in effect, and free treatment is afforded those who are unable to pay.

The elimination of venereal disease is furthered by a progressive program which includes free diagnosis, free treatment and the distribution of free drugs.

Central and branch laboratory services provide the weapons to fight communicable disease and work closely with a capable organization designed to combat and prevent epidemics.

Thus, your health is safeguarded, from birth to old age by the Health Branch which vigorously furthers the maintenance of good health standards and battles disease on all fronts.

WELFARE BRANCH

To provide social security from fear of want, illness or unforeseen crisis is the goal of the Welfare Branch. In municipal and district offices throughout the province, social workers strive to rehabilitate the handicapped, give counselling service to maintain family stability, and work with doctors, teachers, courts, police and many others to treat the effects of detrimental social conditions.

To patients in the Provincial Mental Hospital, mental hygiene clinics, tuberculosis hospitals, venereal disease clinics, and Boys' and Girls' Industrial Schools, social workers bring many services.

In addition, this branch also provides:

... Social Allowances to assure an income for those unable to work.

... Mothers' Allowances to assure an income for widowed mothers with children to care for.

... A substantial portion of the benefits received by our senior citizens—the old age pensioners.

Protection of children from neglect and suffering, providing substitute family care for wards of the government, to guarantee satisfactory adoption practices, to assist children of unmarried parents, and the parents themselves.

... Medical Care for Social Assistance Recipients, including payment of Hospital Insurance premiums.

British Columbia leads all of Canada in its program of social welfare. This is a tribute to the enlightened people of this province who recognize the need for social welfare and pay for it through the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax (3% Sales Tax). It also reflects the economical, yet thorough administration of the Welfare Branch.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE SERVICE

When the Hospital Insurance Service was formed in 1948, its chief function was to free the general public from the dread of hospital bills. Although just emerging from its inception period, the plan has proved a beneficial boon to more than 320,000 people who have since been hospitalized and have had their bills paid by the Hospital Insurance Service.

In picking up the bills, the Hospital Insurance Service is paying for many facilities. While you are in the hospital, you have at your disposal the complete services of the hospital as required, which include: public-ward accommodation; case-room and operating-room facilities; anesthetics; dressings; ward nursing care; available X-ray, laboratory and physiotherapy facilities; and hospital maternity care. These services are covered by the plan only while you are in the hospital.

The plan is financed by the fairest and most practical method possible. In addition to the premiums paid by all citizens, the provincial government and your municipality each make a contribution of 70¢ for every day you are in hospital. The provincial government has also allotted additional money from general revenue to cover the remainder of the plan's operating costs.

Since the plan's inception, countries and states throughout the world have been requesting particular laws concerning its operation. They are interested because the Hospital Insurance Service administers a good hospital insurance plan—one which is designed to serve the people of B.C. in the best possible manner.

Peanut cookies are tender, rich and easy

One-half cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 2 tps. milk, 1/4 cup salt, 2 tps. baking powder, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 cup vanilla, 1/4 cup chopped pecans.

Let butter stand at room temperature until soft. Beat in sugar, egg, milk and vanilla. Add other ingredients, mixed and sifted together. Mix well, chill, roll out 1/4 inch thick and cut with a cookie cutter or omit 1/4 cup flour and drop from a spoon. Top cookies with a pecan, if desired. Bake in a moderately hot oven about 5 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

Three cups salt, 1 tin. baking soda, 1 tin. cream of tartar, 1/2 cup salt, 2 1/2 cups brown sugar, 3 eggs, beaten, 1 1/4 cups coarsely ground peanuts, 1/2 cup shortening, 2 tps. vanilla.

Sift flour, measure and sift again with baking soda, cream of tartar and salt. Put the peanuts in the food chopper using the coarse knife. Cream shortening, sugar and vanilla together until light and fluffy. Add beaten eggs and peanuts and stir well. Then add the sifted dry ingredients a small amount at a time, stirring well after each addition of flour so the mixture is well blended. Knead by hand for 3 minutes and form into a long roll about 2 inches across. Chill in the refrigerator overnight. In the morning slice as thin as possible and bake in a moderately hot oven of 400 degrees F.

A thick ham slice, sugared-glazed and slow-baked in tangy fruit juice, is sure to pep up winter appetites.

The lovely flavor of ham combines well with a variety of winter vegetables to make it a particularly practical and flavor-packed meal choice. Then too, because the modern ham is so easy to prepare, it saves you hours of kitchen work and bother.

For baking, select a centre cut ham slice, cut at least an inch thick, preferably 2 inches. You won't be disappointed in him if you choose a well-known brand, one that will always assure flavor perfection.

Place ham in a baking dish, cover with a cup of fruit juice (pineapple, orange or mixed juices) and bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees about 25 to 30 minutes per pound.

Ham will look pricier if you cut the fat on the outside into uniform sections or diamonds, stick a few cloves in the fat, then cover with glazing honey or orange marmalade, before baking.

Serve glazed ham slice with hot buttered corn, green peas, or broccoli and a crisp fruit and orange salad, and plenty of home-baked rolls.

Thinner, 1/2 inch "fully-cooked" ham slices may be broiled or pan fried in a heavy skillet until thoroughly heated and browned on both sides.

Styled to please, serve ham often, not only for dinner but for breakfast and luncheon too. Here are two variations of fruited baked ham slice you'll enjoy.

1 ham slice (cut 2 inches thick)
1/4 cup pineapple juice
1/4 cup orange juice
4 tablespoons light brown sugar

Place ham in a baking dish and add pineapple juice. Cover and bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes per pound. Pour off remaining juice in a saucepan. Combine corn starch and brown sugar. Slowly add pineapple juice to corn starch brown-sugar mixture, combining well. Add remaining juices and cook until thickened. To serve, pour hot thickened sauce over ham. Serves 6 to 8.

2 ham slices (cut 1-inch thick)
2 cups cranberries
1 cup honey
Cloves

Wash cranberries. Mix with honey. Slash fat on ham slices and place one slice in a shallow baking pan. Spread with cranberry and honey mixture. Top with second slice of ham. Edge top slice with cloves. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, for about 1 hour and 15 minutes. Baste occasionally. Remove from oven. Decorate top slice with some of the cooked berries.

Small greenhouse planned for garden enthusiasts

For gardening hobbyists, classrooms and shrubs, The Financial Post reports a miniature greenhouse, it is 32 inches long, 16 inches wide and 21 inches high. It has automatic ventilation, thermostatically controlled heating system, underground irrigation and electric illumination. Glass enclosed with a cedar base, the unit can be connected to any light socket.

You get value for your building dollar comparable to 15-25 years ago, but it's a different kind of value—fewer frills but better equipment. The trend will continue, according to The Financial Post.

The industry has tried to reduce the cost of houses by cutting down on their size, using cheaper materials, accepting poorer workmanship, and providing more generous financing.

This has gone about as far as it can. About the only resource left is new methods. Some have been tried but they've been too weak to challenge the existing organization of the housing industry.

The encouraging sign is that the flow of new ideas, new money for development never stops.

In fifty-five years, Chiropractic has become the second largest healing profession in the world. How has this success been achieved? It is because, since 1895 when its founder, Dr. D. D. Palmer gave the first adjustment, which restored hearing to a man who had been deaf for 17 years, results obtained under Chiropractic care have proven conclusively the efficiency of this method of healing. The leading Chiropractic in the Colleges throughout America have developed the science, through research and the compilation of data, that today, the Chiropractor is highly trained in the art of locating and removing the cause of nerve interference and thus relieving the nerve energy which normally brings about a condition of health and well-being in the body.

Chiropractic schools necessarily place emphasis on those subjects which a Chiropractor requires to make him a specialist in his own field. The type of training obtained in many Colleges would in fact be the equivalent of seven college years in any University or College in Canada or the United States and fully prepares the graduate for practice in this rapidly advancing healing art.

New devices for measuring quantity and quality of nerve energy are being developed, new X-Ray techniques, new adjusting techniques, and new developments in research and study are arising every year.

All this adds up to the one final test upon which the success of any healing science can be based—good results. In one short half century RESULTS have established Chiropractic as the foremost non-medical health science.

HEARTY WINTER DESSERTS

Dessert should fit in with rest of meal

In the winter time we all like a good hearty dessert to finish off our meals. Whether for special occasion or for everyday, plan a dessert that fits in well with the rest of the meal. Choose a dessert that will contrast and compliment the preceding courses.

The simplest sort of dessert, if it is attractively served and really good to eat has much more appeal than a fancy creation that doesn't live up to its looks.

Desserts should contribute something more than sweetness and calories to your meals. Fruit desserts or milk and egg desserts are a good and healthful addition to your diet.

Following are some of my favorite desserts that are attractive, nourishing and compliment-worthy without causing too much of a strain on the food budget.

COLONIAL RICE PUDDING

This pudding is made by the old-fashioned method and has that delicious, caramelly, old-fashioned flavor. It is good either hot or cold.

5 tablespoons rice
1/2 cup sugar
Dash nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 cups scalded milk

Measure rice into 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Add sugar, salt and nutmeg. Stir in milk. Bake in a slow oven, 300 degrees for two hours. Stir with a fork every 15 minutes during the first hour. Serve 5.

BANANA-PEACH WHIP

This is a dessert that can be eaten by the whole family from Grandma down to Junior.
1 cup mashed peaches, cooked
1/2 cup sugar
Pinch salt
1 cup thinly sliced ripe bananas
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 eggs whites

Mix together the peaches, sugar, and salt. Cook over low heat to dissolve sugar. Cool and add the bananas and lemon juice. Beat stiffly until creamy. Fold in beaten egg whites. Beat mixture until smooth, thick and fluffy. Serve cold. Serves 4 to 6.

OLD-TIME STEAMED PUDDING

This is a hearty and delicious dessert that your family will love.
1 cup chopped meat for 1/2 cup (butter or margarine)
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 1/2 cups raisins
1/2 cup sugar

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
4 1/2 teaspoons cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup molasses
1 cup buttermilk
2 teaspoons soda

Measure meat, raisins, sugar, flour, salt and soda into a bowl. Combine eggs and molasses, stir soda into buttermilk and add. Then stir liquid into dry ingredients. Blend thoroughly. Fill greased molds and tie two or three thicknesses of waxed paper over the tops.

Place on a rack in steamer with boiling water half way in the molds. Cover kettle tightly and steam 2 1/2 hours. Serve with your favorite sauce. Serves 8 to 12.

LEMON SPONGE

This dessert is quick and easy and remains good.

1 cup sugar
3 lemons, juice
2 egg whites
2 cups hot water
2 tablespoons corn starch
Cook sugar, corn starch and water until clear. Add lemon juice and allow to cool. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Chill and serve with the following sauce.

Heat 2 cups of milk. Beat 2 egg yolks and add 2 tablespoons of sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Beat well. Add to the milk, beating constantly. Cook in a double boiler. Stir constantly until thick and smooth. When cool add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Serves 6.

GINGER-YEAR UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

This is a delightful concoction of piping hot gingerbread with a star top of pear halves.

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
6 pear halves, cooked or canned
1/2 cup walnuts
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup sour milk
1 beaten egg
2/3 cup molasses
2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 teaspoons ginger

Melt the butter in a 9-inch round cake pan. Add the brown sugar and blend well. Place walnuts and pear halves in a star design on the bottom of the pan.

Cream shortening and sugar, add egg and well beat. Add molasses then sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Pour the batter over the pears. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees for 1 hour. Serves 6 to 8.

DATE-CARAMEL PUDDING

This is an amazing pudding! It contains no eggs, is dark in color and rich in flavor. When cooked, you will have a light cake on top and a creamy date sauce at the bottom.

1/2 cup sugar
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup dates, or raisins, cut in pieces
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter

Mix together the sugar, flour, baking powder and salt. Sift. Mix with milk and dates and place in the bottom of a buttered baking dish. Make a syrup with the water, brown sugar and butter. Pour over the batter. As soon as the syrup has been poured over the pudding, place it in a 400 degree oven for 30 minutes.

APPLE PINWHEELS

You will like this dessert. It is easy to make, inexpensive and definitely tasty.

1/2 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 tablespoon melted butter
1/2 cup milk
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
4 tablespoons shortening

Sift flour, measure and sift with salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening to consistency of coarse meal. Add enough milk to make a soft dough. Knead lightly and roll to 1/4 inch thick, rectangular in shape. Brush lightly with melted butter. Cover with combined apple, brown sugar and space. Roll up like a jelly roll. Cut in 1-inch slices and place in greased muffin pans. Bake at 225 degrees for 15 minutes. Serve hot with light cream or a lemon sauce. Makes 2 dozen pinwheels.

PUMPKIN CUSTARD

This is a delightful variation on the familiar and popular baked custard. It has a pumpkin-like filling flavor.

1 cup strained, cooked pumpkin
1 tablespoon butter, melted
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 1/2 cups milk, scalded
2 eggs

Add melted butter, salt, sugar, spices and scalded milk to pumpkin. Combine well. Add beaten eggs and pour into buttered custard cups or a baking dish. Oven-pot at 325 degrees for 45 to 60 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in the centre comes out clean.

New Fibre

A British discovery, new synthetic fibre, claimed to feel like silk, twice as strong as cotton, is reported in The Financial Post. It is useful for making anything from rope to lingerie. Chemically different from other synthetic fibres, its raw materials are by-products of crude oil from oil-cracking plants. Said to have good textile properties, to drape well and is pleasant to handle, new fibre launders easily and dries quickly, and has excellent crease resistance.

In the Garden

Ornamental trees, which are not native to our gardens, have to be given special care to withstand adverse conditions to which they are not usually exposed in their natural wild surroundings.

It is, therefore, advisable to choose the most suitable position when planting, where the least robust will receive the greater amount of protection possible from the more sturdy specimens.

It is advisable, therefore, for the gardener, who is laying out a new garden or planting fresh specimens, to find out the likes and dislikes of the tree or shrub he is planning to plant, rather than to plant it in a haphazard way, whenever his fancy tells him he would like to have it.

Some trees or shrubs might thrive quite well under this treatment, but many others would not. Some might like a more shady position, or protection from the prevailing winds; others might prefer a more sunny or exposed position. Then, too, there is the question of what kind of soil is the individual plant used to in its natural habitat? And, most important of all is, will it like a well-drained soil, or does it thrive best in a wet, heavy soil?

Many trees will surely die if planted where they will get "wet feet"; many may survive, and a few may thrive in it.

When planting, care must be taken to remove any injured roots, making a good, clean cut. The branches of deciduous trees should be pruned also to correspond with the pruning of the roots.

This pruning of the branches should be done by removing the weaker shoots in their entirety, cutting them back at the junction with the branches or main stem where they spring from. But this must be done carefully, so as to be sure the symmetry of the tree is kept well-balanced.

Heading back all the branches should not be done. This will only spoil their natural growth, for most ornamental trees will grow symmetrically.

The more mature trees will require occasional pruning to keep them well-shaped, and this pruning will consist chiefly in removing dead or damaged branches, some of the weaker branches where they grow too thick, and any branches which project in the way of walks, drives, or interfere with the view.

Conifers should not be pruned except to remove dead or damaged branches. The beauty of evergreens is marred by the removal of their lower branches.

It is as well to give special attention at the time of their planting, so to locate them that their lower branches may be left permanently to sweep the ground.

Deciduous flowering shrubs are always superseding their older, weaker and bloomed-out wood with new and vigorous growth. Therefore, the general practice in the pruning of shrubs is to remove all dead wood, all branches which lack vigor or are too weak for satisfactory flower production, and those interfering with the symmetry and attractiveness of the shrub or the development of younger, more vigorous and more valuable shoots that are to bear the bloom in the immediate future.

Pruning of flowering shrubs is essentially a thinning-out process. The shoots removed are cut back to the level of the ground, not headed back to develop weak, worthless laterals or to die. Any general heading back, shearing, or clipping of shrubs is to be avoided if attractiveness and flower production are to be maintained.

Along the Buy-Ways...

By Madge Helmer

The hectic mid-winter holidays are over so now you can get that permanent you didn't have time before they started and you'll go to the ROSELYND BEAUTY SALON of course, because you can get a odd wave, machine or machineless permanent at a figure to fit any budget.

Even if you don't require a permanent a shampoo and wave in the bright, pleasant atmosphere of the ROSELYND is wonderfully relaxing. Perhaps you'd rather spend your Christmas gift cheque on some hot oil treatments. These really do wonders, stimulating the scalp for a more lustrous growth of hair, besides helping to prevent or eliminate dandruff.

If you feel that your hair is drab and uninteresting try a color rinse after your next shampoo. These are absolutely harmless and definitely not a dye, but they do bring out the highlights and give you a real "crowning glory". The ROSELYND BEAUTY SALON is closed on Monday and open all the rest of the week INCLUDING WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 5:30. Telephone 3726 for your next appointment.

Semiahmoo Sun.

December has been a busy and successful month for the Second Pack of White Rock Braves. Several texts were passed and congratulations are due to Barbara Small for completing her Golden Hand.

Quite a number of Brownies had a big time at the Christmas party on December 16 when they were guests of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion. Many thanks to Mrs. Stewart and the other ladies of the Auxiliary.

December 20 was our own Christmas meeting and a very interesting program was arranged by the four Senior Brownies. Treats were provided through the kind generosity of Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Chandler.

On behalf of the Brownies, I wish to take this opportunity of saying "Thank You" to the members of our Local Association, to our staff of Examiners, our Godmother, Mrs. Haddon, our Pack Leaders, Diana, Mollie and Stella Ashton, our District Commissioner, Mrs. McGowan and the Canadian Legion. We wish the Legion to know how much we appreciate the privilege of meeting in their Hall. It is such a convenient and comfortable place for your children to meet, we consider ourselves lucky indeed.

Best wishes to all our friends and supporters and a very Happy New Year to everyone.
